Dear KSB Friends,

Help Save the Historic Schuerman House

The home is the last remaining intact house built by a Sedona "first family" that went on to be used to successfully meet the requirements of the Homestead Act.

"The historical significance of the house is at least three-fold. Not only was it built by a very early and prominent Oak Creek family, but it is about 120 years old, and it is mostly original in its form and details."

The Schuerman homestead house, ca. 1906, still stands, but needs serious attention to preserve it as nature has taken a toll in the 40+ years since family members lived in the home. Now under the ownership and stewardship of the Sedona Historical Society, they need your urgent assistance to SAVE this rare piece of local history for generations to come.

THE PLAN is to REPAIR - RESTORE - REOPEN

- STEP 1: Stabilize structure, new roof and electrical, and make the house tight and safe.
- STEP 2: Develop a Master Plan for the community's use.
- STEP 3: Open and share this local treasure.

Litter Lifting Can be Fun!

Sure, litter lifting can be fun, especially in beautiful Sedona, but I am still in awe of seven volunteers from Sol Searchers who on May 11th had way too much fun litter lifting. Could it really be that exciting or are these women just really cool and incredible. I mean who pays to visit Sedona and then volunteer to pick up garbage from the side of the road?

All the women were from out-of-town and most from other states. Sol Searchers is a women's retreat company that combines travel, yoga and wellness with local volunteer work. They chose litter lifting at Keep Sedona Beautiful for their volunteer activity.

Thank you, Lisa, for bringing your energy, wellness, and vision to Sedona. Learn more at www.sol-searchers.com.
